

Property Availability as of 5pm Tuesday, March 9, 2010.

It is not uncommon for multiple offers to be considered on an REO property. Up until a listing is noted as having an accepted offer, there is typically still time to submit your offer and have it considered by the seller.

All listings have offer instructions and a required lender form posted on MLS under media. By following these instructions, you will insure that your buyer's offer is processed and presented as quickly as possible.
